Ensuring that all properties have house numbers displayed assists first responders in being able to quickly respond to emergency situations. In fact, this provision is so important that it has been a requirement in the City of Goodland since 1972 (Ord. 884) and carries a misdemeanor and fine of $25 per day for violators. Beginning October 1, 2018, properties without house numbers displayed will be subject to this enforcement. However, the City of Goodland will be offering free house numbers to property owners while supplies last. If your property is not in compliance with this requirement, stop by City Hall during regular business hours to collect your house numbers.

It's that time of year that our Electrical Department will be out checking power lines in need of clearance from tree branches. If you notice branches or limbs near power lines on your property, the Electrical Truck may be coming by to trim for line clearance and for line clearance only. If you are wanting professional trimming done, please contact a local tree service. Keeping line clearance open during wind and ice storms will lessen the chance of power outages and immediate safety hazards to your home.
